

Tsubaki of Canada acquires Dia-Saw Manufacturing Ltd.

2016/12/06

Tsubaki of Canada Limited is pleased to announce the acquisition of Dia-Saw Manufacturing Ltd. (“Dia-Saw”) of Maple Ridge, BC. Dia-Saw has been serving customers in western Canada since 1988. Starting as a manufacturer of shake and shingle mill equipment they evolved into a leading manufacturer of sprockets and related drive components.

Jos Sueters, Vice President comments: “The addition of Dia-Saw gives us a manufacturing base in British Columbia and will significantly enhance our ability to serve the market. We are also very pleased that David Dueck, President of Dia-Saw will be staying on to help us grow our business. We look forward to working with and learning from Dave.”

Tsubaki of Canada Limited is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Tsubakimoto Chain Co. (Tsubaki) of Japan. Tsubaki is a world-leading manufacturer of power transmission products and material handling systems. We are committed to developing products with unmatched technology for ultimate performance. Many of our products hold top market share thanks to their enhancement of production efficiency, quality, durability, and energy efficiency.
