Issue	The customer would purchase this C2062 attachment chain from the OEM and have to “degrease” it once it came in. It was an extremely long length serpentine conveyor that the special A1 attachments would start to “walk away” from one another. This was about to cause issues with their operations.
Tsubaki Solution	When the lubrication is removed from the chain it causes steel on steel mechanical wear. To counteract this Tsubaki offered its Lambda lube free chain. This chain comes relatively dry to the touch as they standard hot dipping of the chain in lubrication does not occur. Additionally, we offered the chain pre stretched, matched and tagged chain so that the relative tolerancing between strands was as close as possible. This made sure that the attachments were as close to identically spaced apart as possible to avoid the “walk away” happening on this conveyor.
